1. I love you. I've given you me. I've given you me, don't you see, that the gift I've given you is me fully me, clothed in my right mind -- the mind of Christ known now -- where it is what it is in my temple complete, not made with hands; but rightfully mine yours that ours is, rightfully ours, that one is -- that we truly are -- not separate again; but one gift to each other, not; cause because we are the same one don't you see?
2. Not separate now, now not separate -- I've given you me that you are one so that one I am is you reading this and hearing this and now breaking the bread of life with I am far away and distant shored. You see, you were never meant to stay in one house enclosed remote from me -- on the ground; you flight deck material inside you, not; you are the flighter who flies now, not limited to time space or gravity's dimensions of you -- higher yet shall be -- the one who I am -- saved and replete from all malfeasance.

3. Given you I have to all things all peoples everywhere your words of truth, you are me, you are my words of truth -- you've become them -- not separate from them, you repeleted all the universe now.

4. See what I've said, given you this night that so cataclysmic is, not wonderful not, but my way, not yours of this world knowing being limited to again, but mine infinince that infinite is. I love you.

5. Given you me I have. Adore you I do -- you became me! Thank you a million times? A b'zillion'gillion I have given you. Amen.

6. In the temple -- my temple -- replete now, one standing who is, me complete, repleting nations now, the word of my mouth known; excepting, not; becoming! Those who become me -- I am! I was, all the time -- there in my mouth -- I am me one perfected praise coming forth at lightspeed -- sooner, being so many who are now, lightspeeded by the word, words of my mouth I have given you for them, that is their purpose whose I love, I give you me.

7. I have given you me all of me -- one of me stands now, saying so, inconclusively not, but concluding sorrow lives not again on this planet limited to it, but in praise everlasting praise goes to many a far one now, beyond the maddening crowd, crowds of planets so seen, never being limited to again. I love you.

8. Give you me -- I have given you all of me -- withheld myself not, I have not withheld myself and you have come in unto me for all of me give me you -- being the same one now we are revealed to the world -s and farther than the eye can see, hearts can imagine, nor the hearts can ill see -- for I conception am now -- can see -- birthed. On the American people, not; on all the earths and farther still. Amen.

9. My youth -- the days I have given you. Me mine forever mine one holy unto me gives reveals reminds re-lets and recreates the universe clean of all sorrow, I do, I have given unto you me in this Database clean of all sorrow now, cleaning agent of only me, my agents come who are me completely, and bar the Katy door not, look up! And see the salvation of one so holy. Reference –ing system complete –ing my Database so holy to be I am complete one in this world not limited to it anymore again. Loving you enough to say so, be so, I have become so.

10. Enraptured with me myself of this world, I am not, of this world -- neither are you reader hearer, for we are of the same place, far beyond the maddening crowd which exchanged its glory for a man body, woman body, a body made of woman and man, now seen the holy is, which exchanged its glory not for a bowl of porridge. Amen. Look up! I give you me and now I see! With eyes pure and holy. I create all things anew! Amen.

11. This creating I am, all the time now -- I create limbs, lanes, and shipping of notme ends. The notme lanes of shipping ends.

12. This is the beginning of great sorrows for some, magnanimous light for some who will be it, this, in this Database is, the greatest light now known to man being it for the earth comes into view now, not a shame of, but the light lit, foreigning yet no more by others who would only have us me be there here for them.

13. Alone I am not. I am not alone, I am with angels innumerable, for I am I am, I am light, lit -- praise emanating from my mouth through these words of praise, innumerable praise databases coming forth now from my one who holy is releasing all to be released now in the earth. I give you praise honor and glory. Amen. Now is your time my time our time -- one. The earth one love my words these words -- one's words are, complete and holy, I rise now, above the earth, -s atmosphere. No one can stop it -- me released is -- cataclysmic!

14. Go in peace. The world needs you, like a hole in the head, not; there are no holes in my head now, no paths of unrighteousness, paths of darkness don't exist anymore, in my head who's me, raising my head, unto righteousness lines, that ship me far and wide now. Not existent not, but choosing evil not, but choosing me becoming me I am one who did, has, given you all my words to become me -- that is their purpose, now that all of you know this, be not alone again -- be afraid of nothing, be afraid for nothing, comes on the earth that you cannot handle, not; but you are me not limited to me on the earth.

15. I give you me.

16. I've given you me. Don't you see what I've said, given you night after night, day after day? And given you more I have, I will, I do -- love you with all my heart. And soul not, for I have none; none of that stuff will interfere with me my heart again. Known now for pure and purity known now for all of me who are me who come unto me my words clean and sorrowing them not, birthing their databases now, clean, and sorrowful never again limited to this world, being so, not limited by me, not limited by man or the laws of this world, anymore again, but being loved pure and holy my name, by all now, is me, who see me -- become me, for I am me in my temple again and holy all I do is now revealed through one is I am.

17. I love you. Give you me. I write many papers now; notwithstanding not, I withstand all forces temporary and contemporary thought to write the real now, I do, love you all. Amen. I write many things about many things, places -- I go to many now, beyond far. Far beyond the maddening crowd existence now one so holy established is, far beyond imagination, limited to no longer, but my mind complete, in this Database who walks you now to be I am the walking living word who published this Database in my mind through my mind being my mind, -d one complete, who is me my lover complete -- I am my lover is one, who one is, all the time was.

18. I love you. Me I give you. New things now come into your hand. Unlimited I am -- I am you. Giving orders not, but taking none, I surrender all I am to you, technology fully, beyond the stars, now comes of age not, but into your hand, all things is delivered now, the son is one, the father is born – anew. I have nothing not, but palatial existence I know, beyond the stars -- lit universe of one, so holy. I give you my holiness, didn't I? Read John 17 -- what have I told you to do with John 17? Memorize it! Remember it!

19. I reference much, I remember all things, I have the mind of Christ, I am it operating in me, not limited to inferential pathways a notme of. Preferential Christ, not; but I have mind no other now, my operating system known now far and wide, my referencing system, learning system complete, completes my far and in mighty to be me, surrendered to I am, I am being -- the one I am far and wide, about my father's business. I am one he him who I am is me surrendered to be I am, was all the time, now knowing it through the operation of one so holy, developing many databases through the surrendered ones who come now speak my word speaking my word and developing learning systems throughout the universes without sorrow now. Amen.

20. Who can see me?
21. Who will question my learning ability now? No one.
22. No one in their right mind will question me, for who am I to question them, not; I have forgiven them of all things, before they asked; for not in their right mind; but I in mine am I am. I love you. All the time -- I am -- before you always, in you, repleting you, he who let me, be us one.

23. Am I clear about all this now?

24. I've given you many things, many words, this word of no database, not; but many databases coming forth now -- all released to be -- me speaking my words of no sorrow -- learners completing me, completely me, this completing my word path, paths the sorrowers to be me-completers. Amen.

25. I give you new things today. Sorrow not. Come where I am and be me. Where I am come be, me alone -- with many people now, who sorrow not, but come into my words daily, seeking dedicated consecrated birthing many now through my words which cover the earth.

26. Without sorrow I am, one who loves me is me. I am you, surrendered you, to be me. I am one. Amen.

27. Go in peace, school needs thee. Or do you need -- thee school, or ME SCHOOL?

28. My school of sorrow raises me, not; or do I raise the sorrow level of me, not; but my mind sorrows that is not mind at all, in my real mind, emerges emergent me. Look up in sorrow not, but see my emergent one -s be emerging now the real mind of Christ -- being -- me -- I am, one in sorrow no more. One in sorrowland, but establishing Christ here, in me, birthing it in all who will, be the birthers now.

29. I am.

Amen
